

The Carson Daily Appeal

CARSON CITY:
Thursday, October 23, 1873.

A YOUNG MAN who parts his name in the middle, J. Bedford Roberts, Esq., furnished the principal materials for an interesting law case which got a hearing in the Supreme Court yesterday. To briefly retrace our course of narration, we will remind our readers that Mr. Roberts and a temporary associate in business came upon and stopped at a certain mail stage between Reno and Scranton, as long ago as 1871 and committed highway robbery upon Paymaster Eggleston, U. S. A., as was proven upon him by the said associate, who, being shot by the driver of the stage, and afterwards apprehended, turned State's evidence against the said J. Bedford, and gave testimony which convicted him of the crime charged, and got him sent to the Penitentiary for term of years. Well, to cut a long story short, Roberts was one of the crowd of prisoners who broke out of the Prison two years ago, and when being recaptured and tried for jail breaking and convicted, got another year added to his term. Meantime his lawyers took his case to the Supreme Court on appeal, basing their plea of error upon the hypothesis that Roberts' trial having been had at Washoe City after the county seat of Washoe county had been removed to Reno, there had been no trial in law and therefore no time and therefore no legal conviction, etc. The Court sustained the appellant's view of the matter and ordered a new trial under the indictment. It seems that the Sheriff of Washoe county did make an effort to get possession of the defendant, but his process being deemed insufficient by the Warden, he was not allowed to be taken from the Penitentiary. Now comes Roberts' counsel, Col. A. C. Ellis, swearing for a writ of habeas corpus, basing his plea, in this instance, on the theory that Roberts' trial for the crime charged having been declared a nullity by the Supreme Court he is held without warrant of law—the said plea involving the other conclusion that having broken out of prison while illegally held there he committed no crime at all in so freeing himself. The matter was taken under advisement.

FOX'S BOOK OF MARTIES is one of the blessed comforts of a comfortable hypochondria; but Fox's Book and Bracket store is a joy forever. We like to roam amidst its classic laps of ancient tomes and modern gimmeracks and view the prospect o'er. The art of the black-walnut bracket-maker is one of the peculiar achievements of the age. They have a queer little flexible saw that winds about and in and out in a manner to quite put Mr. Tennyson's Brook out of all countenance, and they just set it to diddling and jiggering through a bit of walnut, and in a half a jiffy there you have your bracket—all scrolled and grape-vined and fig-leaved and arabesqued in beautiful style. The interesting fact that the genius of man hath perfected this happy mechanical contrivance gives us the North American Bracket in all its brilliant variations—as one may see to the feasting of his eyes and the exciting of his admiration by just wandering as we have, through Fox's glades and avenues.

WE VENTURED to probe the inner recesses of Judd's Hardware Depot yesterday, bent upon learning the true meaning of a pot-bellied specimen of a stove, dubbed "Sweet Meat" which stands gazing in inexplicable silence on the walk along with certain ranges and intelligible stoves and just and upright funnels there. But Judd was off somewhere, and the noise of his busy tinkers drowned the inquisitive genius of us and we adjourned sub-jet to call on the house.

AGAIN hath it been shown how beneficial are the uses of advertising. Yesterday morning we made brief mention of the finding of a lost brooch. Now it once more lends its auriferous luster to the heavy bosom of its owner. It is a pleasure to lose things when they can thus be brought to light in manifestation of the incomparable advantages of advertising. It is better to have loved and lost (and advertised) than never to have loved at all.

MASON & CHAMBERLIN have been adding a handsome lot of white chinaware to their big lot of crockery and glassware—also a choice lot of plated ware and handsome table-cutlery. One can get a full set of china or, if desirable, a single piece to replace one of a broken set. Cords of new goods are piling into their establishment daily.

THE SUPREME COURT on Monday next will meet to hear arguments in the case of Owen Ferguson, under sentence of death for murder in Lincoln county and James Harrington convicted of murder in the second degree in the same county. No decision has yet been made in the case of David M. Hall, under death sentence in Nye county.

MR. CHAMPAGNE, the new made married man, introduced us yesterday to his first cousin Mons. Claret. We are happy to make his acquaintance.

RETURNED.—Mr. Mint Superintendent Hetch returned from a flying trip to San Francisco yesterday.

UNCLE TREAD duly delivered to us yesterday two complimentary tickets to the grand Pioneer Ball at Virginia City on the 31st of November. We feel as if it were our duty to say something handsome on this proud occasion, but it is but honest to say that we feel inadequate to the ponderous emergency. Pioneers are always famous for the superior character of their balls; and to doubt the success of this demonstration would be to depreciate a most worthy and effective membership. We offer Uncle Tread our very hearty thanks and assure the fraternity whose representative he is of our ardent and quickeless affection and esteem. May no natural or other unforeseen causes interfere to detract from the pleasures of this reunion; but, instead, may all things move on in such pleasant melody of prosperous advancement—

That the night may be filled with music, And the woes that infest the day, May fold their tems like the Arabs, And as silently steal away.

MR. STATE TREASURER JEFF SCHOLING returned from California yesterday and as taken sick enough to make a forced march for bed, soon as he got to his quarters. We made a professional call upon him and heard his confession. He said he had been unwell for some days at the Bay—had colic or something; and then from getting chilled in crossing the Sierras had the rumpus renewed in his broad and manly stomach. He was easy when we saw him and threatened to be up in a day or two; but if that starched and flounced and ruffled and frayed night-shirt of his should happen to strike in on him—which God forbid—we wouldn't give a cancelled Controller's warrant for his chances. But we hope to see him stamping about again to-day or to-morrow, all the same, flounces or no flounces.

MINT BUSINESS.—The Cashier of the Carson Mint delivered, yesterday, to Wells, Fargo & Co., Carson, nine unparted bars of gold and silver weighing together 1026 pounds and worth in cash the sum of $50,743.32. The bars are the property of the Crown Point mine, Gold Hill, Nevada.

NOTICE TO DELINQUENT LICENSEE PAYERS.

Sheriff Swift desires us to give explicit notification to the delinquent licensees (liquor dealers, cigar vendors, &c.) in the county and town that unless they come to town and settle without further notice or running after, he will give them a turn at the law. This applies, understand, to Licensees, and persons liable to a license tax, under the Town Government Act as well as under the County Government. The old man is in dead earnest and it won't do to fool with him. This is pretty much official and means business.

A LIVE Empire City citizen came to us yesterday and made earnest complaint that a horse which had been killed by getting run over at the place where the railroad crosses the county road between here and Empire had lain there until he was stronger than a ten-mile team; and he wants to know why the county authorities or some other authorities don't give that horsey corpse a decent interment. We join him in preounding that very pertinent query.

JOHN SHIRKES, old timer of the V. & T. came back from San Francisco on Tuesday morning. John has been having a pretty tight patch with infestation of the bowels and looks sort of "jickid." He will be all right in a few days.
